

The Descendants of Whaling Masters have arranged an outing to Nantucket for Sunday, October 2, to Tuesday, October 4, 2022. Our itinerary concentrates on island and whaling history, while providing for enjoyment, camaraderie and pleasant dining.

A block of rooms has been reserved for us at the Nantucket Inn. Guests must contact the Inn directly to make reservations, using the following information to obtain the DWM rate of $740 for double occupancy or $549 single occupancy.

Contact the Nantucket Inn online at www.nantucketinn.net, using the booking code 102 or call the reservation office at 800-321-8484 and refer to the Descendants of Whaling Masters in order to receive the group rate. The Nantucket Inn contract includes accommodations for two nights, breakfast buffet each morning at Mom's Restaurant, dinner both evenings at an off-site restaurant, access passes to the Whaling Museum and other Nantucket Historical Association sites, baggage handling and shuttle service between the hotel and downtown. This group rate for reservations is available until September 2. Cancellations may be made up to 7 days prior to arrival.

On Sunday, October 2, we will meet at the fast ferry depot in New Bedford for a 2 p.m. departure to Nantucket. We have negotiated an excellent group rate with Seastreak for the ferry ride. We suggest you arrive early, park in the lot north of the depot and take the shuttle to the ferry. There is also valet parking available if you prefer. If anyone has difficulty finding our party at the ferry, call Charlie Chace's phone: 508-287-1254. After we arrive in Nantucket, we will use a shuttle service to get to the hotel, and then have ample time to settle in before meeting for dinner.

On Monday, October 3, we have scheduled a bus and walking tour of the East end of the island with Francis Karttunen of the Nantucket Historical Society. We will visit Siasconset village, and talk about a Native Hawaiian who came to Nantucket on a whaleship and stayed as a doryman codfishing off 'Sconset; then up to Sankaty Head Lighthouse and back to town via Polpis Road with a stop at Folger's Marsh.

The history buffs among us may be pleased to know that this outing will include a visit to the Nantucket Historical Association Library on Tuesday morning, October 4. We will receive an overview of the library's records. Charlie Chace can provide a contact for anyone who would like to look at specific records. In the afternoon, we will have ample time for lunch and some shopping before departing on the return ferry at 4:15 p.m.

For anyone planning to travel on a different date from this schedule, but still planning to travel with us in either direction, please contact both the hotel and Seascope [Order #369089] to obtain a discount for your individual travel. Be sure to mention the DWM reservation. The registration form includes travel on the ferry, the bus tour and the fee for our guide. Our intention here has been to provide a visit with rewarding activities and to cover all expenses up front, with the exception of your lunch and drink purchases.

If you have any questions about the outing, please email Charlie Chace at whalingmaster12@gmail.com.

To register for this outing, please send completed registration form (below) and check (payable to "DWM") for the total to: Descendants of Whaling Masters, c/o William Potter, 194 Main Street, Fairhaven, MA 02719.
